Wide variety of plugs and cable lengths available

The new Chord C-lite optical cable is available fitted with a specially designed optical mini jack connection that's been purpose built for use with miniature players - there are adaptors but a properly terminated cable will work so much better, The C-lite range features mini jack to mini jack, mini jack to Toslink and Toslink all available in a wide range of sizes; from pocket size portable up to longer lengths for use in home systems.

High quality cable

The Chord C-lite uses a wide bandwidth PMA optical cable the ends of which have been polished to improve bandwidth. The central conductor is protected by an internal jacket of soft PVC which is then covered with a hard skin PVC outer jacket. This helps to prevent crush damage and is flexible enough to allow a tight bend radius without affecting the light carrier.

Ideal for connecting up your TV or other gear to a soundbar or AV receiver, the Chord Company C-lite makes light work of great sound
