The Saramonic SR-SMC10 is a professional universal shock mount for shotgun microphones that was designed for maximum shock and noise suppression, with unrivaled mounting options and user flexibility. It features quick-locking swivel and level controls that provide 360° of rotation and 150° of tilt to easily place the microphone in the optimal position. The mounting hardware is made of durable yet lightweight metal, and the universal elastic suspension system is compatible with microphones with a diameter of 0.59-1.22” (15-31mm). The entire item weighs only 4oz (113g), minimizing additional weight to your set-up.

Clean sound and performance
The 4-point elastic suspension system effectively eliminates unwanted vibration and handling noise. An absolute must for professional sound capture when using shotgun and pencil microphones. And as an added bonus, to ensure years of high-quality performance, four replacement shock mount bands are also included.

Mount it virtually anywhere
The SR-SMC10 also includes unrivaled mounting capabilities, without the need for additional adapters. Its versatile mounting options include a camera-mountable cold shoe mount for mounting on DSLR, Mirrorless and Video Cameras. It also includes 1 /4-20”, 3/8” & 5/8" threaded mounting options for mounting on boom poles, tripods, stands, support rigs, cages and so much more.

Ideal for a wide range of microphones
Its universal design, with a diameter range of 0.59-1.22” (15-31mm), is fully compatible with a staggering list of industry standard shotgun and pencil microphones, including the Saramonic SoundBird V1, SoundBird T3, SoundBird T3L, SoundBird V6, SR-TM1 and SR-TM7.
