Hand-built in the UK, Podcast Pro has become a must-have for podcasters, radio presenters, voiceover artists, gamers and musicians all round the world.

Thanks to its superbly clear sound reproduction, its internal popshield (to keep polisives and sibilance to a minimum) and its tight pickup (so it focuses on your voice rather than on extraneous background noise), it truly is a must-have mic.

Available in seven colours – black, red, blue, gold, green, cosmic grey and purple – Podcast Pro, like all Sontronics mics, is covered by our unique Lifetime Warranty.

VOICECASTING PACK CONTENTS

Also included in the Voicecasting Pack is the Elevate, a multi-positional desktop stand that clamps on to your desk or any work surface. It can also be permanently fixed using the supplied boss fittings.

Elevate features tensioned cables inside rather than springs, so will transfer no noise into your recording, and each arm has a channel and clips to keep your leads tidy.

Speaking of leads, the Voicecasting Pack also includes two cabling options for supreme flexibility. The XLR-USB allows you to plug the mic directly into a Mac or PC, while the XLR-XLR cable enables you to use the mic with an interface or mixer, especially useful if more than one of you are using multiple Voicecasting Packs in one space.

IDEAL APPLICATIONS
The Voicecasting Pack is a must-have for podcasting but also for radio broadcast and voiceover work, for gaming and streaming, video calls and online teaching, plus it's great for recording and making music too!
