Beyerdynamic DT 70 IE Mixing & Critical Listening Overview

The Beyerdynamic DT 70 IE is perfect for audio professionals and critical listeners seeking compact, high-quality sound. Powered by Beyerdynamic's TESLA.11 drivers, these in-ear monitors deliver exceptional clarity and detail while maintaining a small and portable design. With an impressive noise attenuation of up to -39 dB, they block out distractions for a focused listening experience. Their 16-ohm impedance makes them compatible with virtually any device, whether you're mixing tracks or enjoying music on the go. The IP68 certification ensures they're tough enough for outdoor use and demanding environments. Made in Germany, the DT70 IE are built with precision and durability in mind.

Full Description
Compact sound with TESLA.11 drivers

The DT 70 IE features Beyerdynamic's in-house TESLA.11 drivers, designed to pack full hi-fi sound into a compact in-ear format. These 11 mm dynamic drivers use advanced magnetic flux density technology to deliver crisp, detailed audio with excellent clarity and balance. Whether you're monitoring a mix or critically analysing your favourite tracks, the TESLA.11 drivers ensure you won't miss a thing.
Exceptional noise isolation

With noise attenuation of up to -39 dB, the DT 70 IE helps you focus on what matters most – your sound. This level of isolation makes them ideal for live sound environments, mixing in noisy spaces, or simply enjoying music without external interruptions. Stay immersed and in control, even in the busiest settings.
Easy to drive with any device

The 16-ohm impedance means the DT 70 IE works seamlessly with virtually any audio source, from professional mixing desks to everyday smartphones. You won’t need extra amplification or special gear to enjoy their full potential. Just plug in and enjoy high-quality sound wherever you are.
Durable and weatherproof design

Built with an IP68 certification, the DT 70 IE offers excellent protection against dust, water, and harsh conditions. Whether you're on stage, travelling, or working outdoors, these in-ear monitors are designed to keep up with your lifestyle. Durable and reliable, they're made to last.
