Rack mounted signal processing
Powerful but quiet
The ASP510 is a remote operated rack unit connected via a standard CAT-5 cable designed to sit at the centre of your studio. All signal processing and operation takes place in a 1RU rack unit, which has a whisper quiet fan, ideal for being located in your control room without disturbing your listening environment.

Switch between speaker setups effortlessy
4 preset monitor formats
The ASP510’s remote lets you quickly switch between 4 preset monitor formats enabling you to quickly check your mixes in various surround setups, making it the perfect tool for post production work in any industry.

Monitor Control
Complete integration
ASP510 also enables you to isolate/cut individual speakers within your surround or stereo setups, perfect for accurately pinpointing elements of your mix. You can also connect with your consoles or DAW’s direct stereo outputs and work in stereo by simply hitting the bypass button on the remote.

Monitor control made easy
Integrate with your console
The ASP510 will effortlessly integrate with your recording console, providing effective and intuitive monitoring control in an ergonomic package. Whether you’re working on film scores, foley or simply mixing in 5.1, the ASP510 is the perfect surround sound monitoring solution for your studio.
