Manufactured with old world craftsmanship and modern expertise, the Rx Series represents the latest achievement in bass strings. Rx strings are wound on a hexagonal core to prevent buzzing and to ensure the best intonation. The hard temper wire used to craft these come from American wire mills. This attention to quality and extra expense ensures each player receives the highest-end Nickel-Plated and 430 Stainless Steel on the market. More flexible and lighter in tension compared to our SN & M Series, players will find the RX Series are more comfortable to play on any style bass. The Rx Series is just the remedy your bass has been calling for!
