ALLEN & HEATH XONE:23 ADDITIONAL OVERVIEW:

At the heart of the mixer is the renowned analogue Voltage Control Filter (VCF) system offering Low-Pass and High-Pass filters, frequency sweep and 'mild to wild' resonance control. There is also an FX loop to connect to third party FX units, which route back in through the filter system. The main mix output and mic input are on professional standard balanced XLR's, and there is a dedicated record output. The Xone:23 is equipped with comprehensive monitoring facilities, including a booth output with its own volume control, a cue mix control, and signal levels clearly displayed on the 9 segment peak hold meters.

- VCF Filter system - low-pass high-pass filters plus frequency and resonance controls
- External FX loop
- Balanced main mix out on XLR
- Record out
- Touring grade build quality
- User changeable crossfader
- Crossfader curve switch
